The diagram illustrates the tournament structure for the 2019 All Japan University Students Tennis Championships. It features 96 participants, each with a number and a name in Japanese. The participants are arranged in two columns, with the left column containing participants 01 through 48 and the right column containing participants 49 through 96. The tournament progresses through several rounds, labeled T1 through T24 on the left and T3 through T4 on the right. The rounds are connected by lines, showing the path of each participant through the tournament. The final round, T4-24, is at the bottom center, with participants 01 and 96 as the finalists. The winner is indicated by a red line leading to the top of the bracket.
